B. Exception Transaction Fees

- Customer payment cancellation or returned payment (e.g., due to incorrect or inactive account at beneficiary bank) incurs the following:
  - Fee of 50 USD or equivalent in another currency, and
  - Any charges resulting from a FX loss when a payment or payment batch is successfully released in Coupa, not completed (due to e.g., Customer payment cancellation or returned payment), and later reversed at a less-favorable FX rate.
- Reversed Direct Debit Fee: 50 USD or equivalent in another currency, plus a daily fee of the higher of (i) $15 or (ii) 5% (per annum) of the amount of the reversed debit until funding has been provided by Customer.
- Repair fee: When additional information or a manual correction is required to process a payment, a fee of USD 20 or equivalent in other currency will be charged.

II. Check Printing Fees

Coupa will invoice Customer for actual shipping costs (e.g., USPS postage rates) incurred for each check mailed. Any exception to normal check processing (e.g., cancellation of check payment before check has been mailed) will incur a fee of $10 USD.

III. Invoicing

The frequency of invoicing of Customer Transaction Fees shall be quarterly or greater (i.e., no shorter than every 3 months), at Coupa's sole discretion. The currency of invoicing shall be the same as what is specified in Customer's Order Form.

IV. Other

Customer acknowledges and agrees that as Coupa expands its offerings, Coupa will have new types of Customer Transaction Fees, which will be listed in this document and will be effective immediately upon the Customer utilizing those offerings. Customer acknowledges and agrees that Coupa shall pass through to Customer any other transaction fees charged by a third party that the Customer has agreed to with the third party. Coupa reserves the right to change Customer Transaction Fees (e.g., in response to an increase in Coupa's costs, e.g., due to an increase in third party fees), provided however, that any increase will not be applicable until ninety (90) days after this document has been updated to reflect the change and the Customer has been notified.
